Persons have indicated that they want to use the advanced computer system and integrated satellite system and constellation that allows the "remote eeg " The system is capable of doing similar to a remote EEG/MEG type analysis on the brain remotely by passing electromagnetic waves through the brain and utilizing the backscatter(it is advanced but provides information for remote analysis ) along with advanced signals processing techniques to record and process real time electromagnetic data off the brain that is signal and temporally stratified . Meaning persons can see some the real time electromagnetic data coming off the brain and the turn it back into data that is usable . - the system aims using a landmarking feature - meaning the backscatter of a landmark are using by the system to allow the other electromagnetic waves to be aimed at the correct portion of the brain on the move .

The data can be ran through a series of neural networks and signal processing algorithms and the brain waves from the occipital lobe can be turned back into the real time vision a person sees , the brain waves from the auditory cortex can be turned back into the real time sound a person hears , and the brain waves from the centers for internal monologue can be turned back into the real time thoughts a person hears - this is the nations most advanced spying technique and it classified top secret

Which has the ability to track and aim at precise locations on the brain for on the move targeting based on the Doppler Effect and other backscatter tracking from the phased array

and the system

The technology allows for the correct action potentials to be transmitted down the corticospinal tract with the correct amplitudes ,waveforms and intensity and sequences to manipulate the muscles and contract the muscles in any magnitude and direction for any muscle or groups of muscles in sequence . To do any action - including walking , talking , moving the hands in any type of movement , moving the facial muscles , eye muscles , tounge , or any muscle or groups of muscles independently or in synchronization at any magnitude in the correct degree of freedom along the joints .Meaning any muscle or muscle groups can be remotely fired to make a person take any anatomical position that is allowed by joint. Any group of muscle agonist and antagonists can be fired correctly to perform any normal anatomical movement - all of this is because the motor cortex has been mapped precisely and can be tracked on the move by the classified direct energy aiming system . The system has stored in the software source code (and can also translativ movement mode from one person to another - where it tracks the persons who is operating and controlling the software movement and the software program creates the correct pulse locations , pulse flux , pulse width and pulse length of electromagnetic flux to cause induction currents and synthetic actions potentials in the cortical columns of the motor cortex (and the correct sequences for multiple locations) to get the correct muscles to contract at low latency in the correct order ) this system has stored the correct motor cortex remote firing algorithms to synthetically fire the motor cortex in the correct regions and magnitudes to recreate and translate movements from the software onto the target - even if the person is on the move - this system is a classified top secret system a this system is real and classified - please get more information from the Department of Defense about this system - such as how much electromagnetic flux it uses and the width of the beamsteered emf beams to understand how it precisely fired martins brain in precise and complex patterns - persons in the DoD

The system allows for a person to basically be controlled as a "SIMS " character --

Where you can control a person with advanced software - their ability to move , eat , walk ,talk , what they say , how they talk , ability to use any object or manipulate objects , ability to walk , talk , text on the phone , operate computers , --(BASICALLY IT CAN BE USED TO RECREATE ANY MOTION OF THE HAND OR LIMBS IN HIGH FIDELITY MOVEMENT ) -- PERSONS CAN BASCIALLY TAKE CONTROL OF YOUR BODY - using the high tech tracking system and it pulses with less than nanosecond frequency to the regions of the brain - it can hit tens to hundreds of regions of the brain at a time - to synthetically fire the regions in cooperativity (it can synthetically fire the regions in groups , or in sequences - with less than nanosecond time between synthetic cortical column firing ) ---

THIS SYSTEM IS TOP SECERET - THIS IS A LEAK BECAUSE OF INIMENT THREAT TO GOVERMENT OFFICALS HEALTH AND LIFE .

Persons want to use this and the scripting software and the integrated satellite system that controls it to "take control" of a government official or two - during their term or after they retire --

Persons in law enforcment WOULD NOT be able to tell the difference unless they had very sensitive radio analyzer, full spectrum anaylzer , magnetometer , and better backend access to the system than is shown at the ground station (because persons use custom software and interpret the satiate returns and signal sending via custom software that is compartmentalized)

Persons want to use this to torture Goverment officails after they retire - because they could "inhiibit their ability to voluntary move themselves - meaning they could "lock them down" and control all their actions and movements - where the computer controls it" - and they could then synthetically fire the insula or cingulate cortex along with hitting regions of their body with electromagnetic waves to slow degrade and kill the person -

The person would be unable to operate their own vocalbox - unless it was operated by the operators who would use the software which allows the 1to 1 recreation of the vocalbox movmements from their computer system or that it had tracked from the operators electromagnetic tracking of their own brain and own motor cortex regions required for speech - meaning the victim would only be able to talk if was allowed to by the operators and the perpertrators of their torture.

Persons have perfected this system and it could be used and persons have indicated they want to use it on a government official for revenge -

THIS IS A CREDIBLE THREAT and it needs to be reported immediatly to the FBI and to NCIS and to the OSI and to other law enforcement and military partners - Persons have indicated that this threat is credible and persons want to do this to another goverment official - and the military would not be able to tell without the full backend access to the satalite system which is not avaiabile to them at this time.

Please do not dismiss this - FBI and Army Cid has no clue about how advanced and complex this top secret system is and what it can do . Persons without clearencese for this system need to get access to this system and the software and source code and manuals and technical documents and demonstration material to fully understand how this system would be used and "they say - will be used" on an unnamed party after they retire and on other government officials to "lock them down"

Please forward this tip immediately persons can do it and use this system free reign globally and persons are threatening to do this to former and current government officials because they can get away with it .

Persons have threatned to do this to Avril Haines and other members of persons investigating , and on other people - but they also said they have not named the party so no one knows who is doing it . Persons have also indicated they could run the system on a "secret server" or on a server that has not been found - using more encrypted methods to communicate with the satalite network --

Persons have very skilled expertise in IT and other systems and mathematics and this tip needs to be taken seriously.

This is the nations most advanced capabilities - Persons are using it at will and at their discretion . Army Law enforcement has been "duped" about what this system can do and how advanced it is.

Persons can use it to basically operate your body as if you were a "boston dynamics robot" or a "sims character" - where no one can tell that it is them operating your body but the persons who can see the feed of electromagnetic waves returning to the receiver and the datastream - it is the nations most advanced top secret capability over the human body.

Persons in army law enforcement and federal special agents - really have no clue about how advanced this system is - neither does homeland security , the secret service , nsa , and office of special investigators of air force and ncis.

Persons have been withholding details and information about this system and technical information .

This system is the nations most advanced system .

This system could be used to take control of someone fully "complete motor control override" - which is not science fiction - this system can be used to manipulate the facial ,eye , tounge , limbs -

all at once as if the person was completely normal - this is not made up or science fiction - this is the nations most advanced top secret system and it is being leaked to the army law enforcement because people want to use it to torture and maim a government official without anyone noticing .

Army has been duped on how to detect it , who operates it , how advanced it is , and how it works.

Please get the technical documents on how this system works and how advanced it is . The British Military also has access to the system (their own or they piggy back off the USA system ) - the Chinnese goverment is working on a system like this too - this system is not made up and it is compartmentalized and classified top secret and hidden

Persons have intentionally mislead the army about this system - this system can control some ones body as if they were a video game character -

Persons can use it to play a game of basketball at high intensity using someone else's body or a game of baseball or football - without anyone knowing that it is the operator playing the person . That is how advanced the system is - that is how technically advanced the system is.

Persons improve this system and there are multiple different source code and other versions which can integrate with out data feeds and systems.

This system is top secret and an asymmetrical warfare capability that is being leaked because of imminent harm to a government official - this is real - please do not dismiss

Imagine if this robot was replaced by a human in this video - Instead of sending electromagnetic commands to the cervos and the antenna as for a metaloid robot - persons send electromagnetic pulses that are the size of a nanometer to areas of the motor cortex to synthetically fire the pyramidal neurons of the cortical column (because they use beamsteered time varying electromagnetic fields that penetrate into the brain and the skull - PLEASE GET ACCESS TO THE PHYSICS ) - because the brain has been mapped to such a fine degree that persons know exactly the magnitude of electromagnetic impulse (even if there is building overhead or they are underground ) to fire and pulse the motor cortex sub area and area (down to the nanometer) to cause the neuron to polarize and then cause an action potential in the correct region. Persons have mapped the brain so that the magnitude of actions and the regions to control a finger, a hand , all the fingers , all the hands , the legs , the facial muscles , all the muscles in synchrnoization at once (using tens to hundreds of beams that can switch regions in nanosecond switching patterns and nanometer switching precision) - also using nanometer to millimeter sized beams of directed energy that can also be aimed and combinbed with constructive interference to aim at the correct depth of the sulci and gyri or the brain - or the correct depth of the homunculus of the brain to fire the specific regions of the motor cortex for the correct magnitude of firing . Persons can fire the regions of the muscle at the slightest degree or at the most force able to fire (and combine muscle groups and sequences - using their highly advanced software ) - so that any action or set of actions can be scripted or the software can be put on translativ movement mode where an operators brain can be tracked and then it translates the electromagnetic fields it tracks from the operators brain directly into the subject/victim - - it is the most advanced software currently in the CIA/DOD arsenal for interacting with a human being .

Persons say they want to and have indicated a credible threat to use the system on a government official while they are employed and after they retire to basically set their movements and actions and control them so they can torture them without anyone noticing - meaning they can set their actions and routines and what is said , while they torture them by causing them extreme pain but no one would be able to tell because they can control their words (by manipulating the voicebox so only the operators words are said) , their actions - by manipulating their limbs - and the subjects facial expression and eye movements

The software is that advanced that the system can manipulate all the body parts at once - and the facial muscles and the voicebox and the limbs of the subject at once so that a person can basically become a remote controlled person with no one being able to tell besides those who have access to the DATASTREAM - which only their custom software can interpret .

Persons want to use the software to torture a government official for revenge

You

2023/9/1 9:20 PM

This is not science fiction this is a credible threat and persons have access to a system that can do this - ARMY CID is out of the loop and persons want to use it torture and torment a government official as part as ongoing domestic terrorism and domestic terrorism threats -

Please take seriously - please get access to how this system works, the software , the physics , what it can do , who operates it , how it operates , and how it aims

Persons want to use it and indicated they are going to use it to torture a government official

The system is so advanced that it has mapped the required electromagnetic pulses / the required electromagnetic impulses from the system required to cause certain magnitude of synthetic action potentials and it has mapped all the correct combinations to move the muscles

Explained:

The software knows that magnitude X of a electromagnetic pulse on the homunculus of the motor cortex will cause a synthetic induced action potential of the region of the motor cortex region of magnitude Y - which will lead to a recruitment of a certain amount of motor neurons in the correct muscle to cause the muscle to contract to a certain amount of force/degree along its axis .

The software knows that if you use the correct electromagnetic pulses on the homunculus of the motor cortex and the order of firing and aiming (which it can do in real time for a subject on the move)

Meaning that the software can fire regions of the motor cortex for multiple muscles with the correct magnitudes of firing so that a correct synthetic action magnitude is formed to cause the muscles to contract in the correct magnitudes and speed for a movement by recruiting the correct number of motor neuron units for each muscle that the system is aimed at (by firing the correct regions of the motor cortex)

In region of the M1 of the motor cortex say someone needed to turn their wrist - then

Aiming at the M1 motor cortex - the system sends a flux of electromagnetic energy that is beamsteered to cause an synthetic action potential so the signal first sends a signal to the motor neurons that control the extensor carpi radialis longus muscle (by causing an induced signal down the spine). This muscle extends the wrist and helps to turn it towards the thumb.

The system will then aim at the M1 (at less than nanosecond speed) will then send a signal to the motor neurons that control the extensor carpi radialis brevis muscle at the correct region of the motor cortex - to get it to fire in the correct magnitude and speed. This muscle also extends the wrist, but it helps to turn it away from the thumb.

Then the system again/at the same time will cause electromagnetic pulses at the other region of the M1 will then send a signal to the motor neurons that control the extensor carpi ulnaris muscle. This muscle extends the wrist and helps to turn it towards the little finger.

Once the operator stops moving or once the scripted movement script has stop then the system will stop aiming at the M1 and it will stop using electromagnetic pulses to cause induction currents so that the system stops the firing and sending of signals to the motor neurons.

The order in which the system pulses the M1 to cause an induction current so that synthetic action potentials are formed and signals to the motor neurons are created depends on the desired movement. For example, if you want to turn your wrist towards the thumb, the M1 will first send a signal to the motor neurons that control the extensor carpi radialis longus muscle. If this is not enough to turn the wrist, the M1 will then send a signal to the motor neurons that control the extensor carpi radialis brevis muscle. Finally, if the wrist is still not turned to the desired position, the M1 will send a signal to the motor neurons that control the extensor carpi ulnaris muscle.

The system has calculated the necessary spots and frequencies and pulse powers and pulse magnitudes to recreate ANY MOVEMENT OF THE HUMAN BODY - even for all the muscles at once - It can make a person go swimming in a pool and use all their muscles to swim and recreate the movement of swimming but they are computer controlled.

It can make a person talk, walk, and use their limbs at the same time. The system is that powerful that the software can aim multiple - tens to hundreds of beamsteered beams at the correct regions with the correct pulse rates and magnitudes at the motor cortex so that the correct action potentials are created that fire the correct muscles in sequence (and the correct agonist and antagonists - in sequence ) to create an action a movement , a series of actions , a series of movements, -- The system can be left on indefinitely basically -

The system can recreate any movement by firing the motor cortex at nanosecond speed with multiple beams and pulse rates and pulse powers to cause the correct firing of any muscle in the body or groups of muscles in the body - the system can track operators brain and recreate the movement of their hands or body and then create the correct pulse power , pulse rate , pulse frequency to fire the subject/victims body or movements in the same fashion.

The system is so skilled that it could make a person recruit the max amount of motor neurons to do their max bench press - meaning it can fire the motor neurons of muscles from the weakest intensity to the maximum intensity.

This system is controlled by a satellite constellation and it is a real system and it is top secret.

Persons can leave it on a victim and then control all their movements and facial muscles , voicebox , their limbs and actions and NO ONE WILL BE ABLE TO TELL -aside from the people who can detect the electromagnetic backscatter stream that is coming off their body .

Persons indicated that they want to use this system to torture a government official.

This system is also linked up to the real time eeg system and it is linked up to the real time direct energy aiming system.

The system can track the brain and the body at nanometer accuracy and depth accuracy even when a subject is on the move at MACH - TOP SECRET - NOT A LIE - it is that advanced .

LEAK - Persons are planning and wanting to perform tests of the system to aim the system over a fighter plane/plane in midair and then "jump to the target" - meaning they want to aim the satellites over a plane in midair based off their heading - then the backscatter targeting system will automatically find the motor cortex waveforms of their brain even while they are on the move at mach speeds - and then the system will be able to "take control of their body and person midair " -- this is not science fiction , this is how advanced persons are making the system - this is why army law enforcement cannot get access to the system

Please take seriously - persons want to use the system to torture and maim a government official when they are out of office -by taking control of their body and being extremely cruel to them without them being able to indicate that there is a problem - persons can also use it to affect the victims memory so that even if they did release the victim the victim might not even be able to remember since they can damage the hippocampus

Persons want to use this to torture Government officials after they retire - because they could "inhibit their ability to voluntarily move themselves - meaning they could "lock them down" and control all their actions and movements - where the computer controls it" - and they could then synthetically fire the insula or cingulate cortex along with hitting regions of their body with electromagnetic waves to slow degrade and kill the person -

The person would be unable to operate their own vocalbox - unless it was operated by the operators who would use the software which allows the 1to 1 recreation of the vocalbox movmements from their computer system or that it had tracked from the operators electromagnetic tracking of their own brain and own motor cortex regions required for speech - meaning the victim would only be able to talk if was allowed to by the operators and the perpetrators of their torture.

Persons can use it to inhibit the voicebox of the subject meaning - only the operators would be able to talk out of the subjects mouth - while they also control and synch their face into the subjects face because it tracks the operators face but renders it in the subjects face - -

Meaning no one could tell if someone did this to someone besides advanced backscatter sensors that could detect the electromagnetic field streams

Persons said and made comments about wanting to do this to a goverment official and basically "becoming that official" where them and their buddies script and use the software to become that person while they torture them - no one would be able to tell unless they had the sensor

This is in conjunction with the other threats and things that have been reported - that persons have said they want to do - and have taken credit for doing - and what persons have admitted to do and what persons have planned and what to do .
